

What is Reclaim?

- An AI scheduling layer that sits on top of Google Calendar or Outlook, acting as an AI assistant.
- Syncs work and personal calendars to act as a time manager
- Automatically finds the best time for tasks and habits while prioritizing meetings.

What Problems Does Reclaim Solve?

Multiple calendars causing confusion

Overbooked blocks in schedule

Manual calendar updating when plans change

Not having time to organize work and personal tasks

How Does Reclaim Work?

- Smart Time-Blocking: Tell Reclaim your "Habits" and "Tasks", and it automatically blocks out time on your calendar.
- Auto-Rescheduling: If a client books a meeting (task) over a flexible habit (like gym), Reclaim instantly moves that habit to the next available opening.
- Multi-Calendar Sync: It syncs your personal calendar (e.g., family time, doctor, car service) with your work calendar.

How Can a Small Business Use Reclaim?

The Bakery:

Specific Use: Automatically schedules prep time early in morning. If a customer makes large order, the AI can assign time slot to let you get both tasks done.

Construction:

Specific Use: Blocks out travel time and site visits. If a project meeting runs over, the AI shifts the "Invoicing" task to the evening or tomorrow morning.

Personal:

Specific Use: Syncs your personal time to your professional calendar so you appear "Busy" to clients during those personal windows.
